Global Instant Noodles Market

Executive Summary

Instant noodle is a noodle dish that is retailed in precooked or dried noodle block. Wheat, flour, oil are some of the essential ingredients used in the making of instant noodles. The aroma and taste preference for instant noodles is different in different countries. For instance, in countries like India majority of the people prefer to have vegetarian flavors of instant noodles. On the other hand, in countries like Korea and China, the inclination is more towards non vegetarian flavors like beef, pork, crab etc.

The global instant noodles market has been segmented on the basis of product type, source and packaging type. On the basis of product type, the market can be further split into sea food, chicken, beef, pork and vegetables. On the basis of source, the market is bifurcated into wheat, rice and oats. The market has been divided into packets and cups on the basis of type of packaging.

The global instant noodles market is forecasted to grow at a healthy rate during the forecast period (2021-2025). The market is supported by various growth drivers such as increasing working population, rise in disposable income, ascending middle class population, high demand for convenience food and use of instant noodles in the case of emergency situations like natural disasters. The market is also confronted by some challenges such as food safety concerns taking toll on consumer acceptance and vulnerability to supply chain disruption.

Fortification of instant noodles, spike in demand for clean label products, proliferation of social media platforms, launch of variants as per taste of different regions and opportunities for instant noodle companies to strengthen distribution channels are some of the latest trends existing in the market.
