Global Product Lifecycle Management (PLM) Software Market

Executive Summary

Product Lifecycle Management (PLM) is managing the lifecycle of a product from its inception to its disposal by scaling down of information across all teams in a company to create a better product. Product Lifecycle Management (PLM) is segmented into PLM Software and PLM services. Product lifecycle management software is used to automate the management of product-related data and integrate the data with other business processes such as enterprise resource planning (ERP) and manufacturing execution systems (MES).

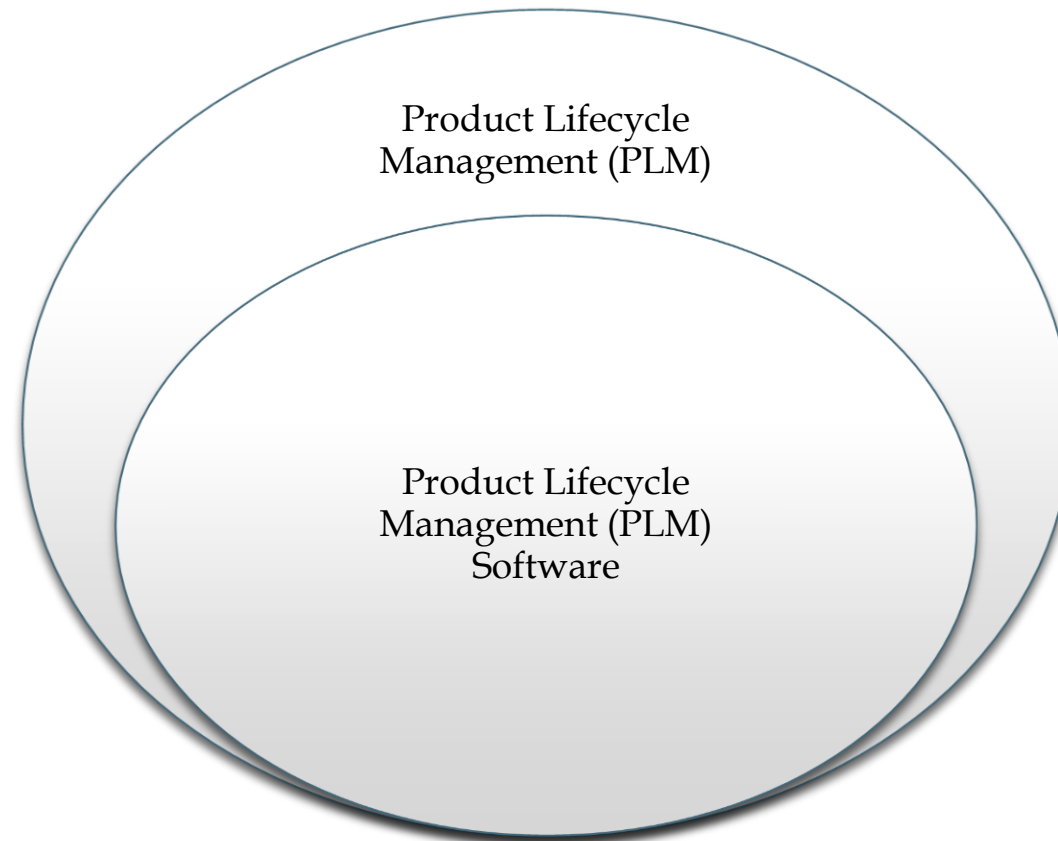

PLM software helps in improving efficiency by reducing design time and release and change cycles. The PLM software also helps the business to innovate.

PLM Software can further be fragmented into two dimensional and three dimensional software. According to the products, the PLM software is divided into mechanical computer aided-design software (MCAD), simulation and analysis (S&A) software, collaborative product definition management (cPDm) software and digital manufacturing (DM) software.

The projections are made that the global product lifecycle management (PLM) software market would rise in the next four years i.e. 2018-2022 tremendously. The global product lifecycle management (PLM) software market is expected to increase due to rising demand for process automation, growing demand for automobile industry, increasing need for product innovations, shortening time to market, etc. Yet the market faces some challenges due to high cost and complexity issues, threat of cyber security and software privacy and low adoption by small and medium sized enterprises(SMEs).
