

Chinese Recruitment Market: Sector Report

Executive Summary

Recruitment refers to the process of searching and hiring right candidates according to clients' specifications. In earlier times, hiring process used to be sole function of human resource department of an organization. But now with evolving services recruitment providers, hiring and training activity has been increasingly outsourced to specialized agencies.

Outsourcing the entire HR processes to recruitment solution providers has become one of the key trends in China. With highest number of internet users globally, e-recruitment has also grown in importance for Chinese market. Other trend that is been observed in this segment is buying talent from competitors. In spite of poaching of talent been unethical, this is openly practiced.

The recruitment industry is growing in China based on factors such as effective supplier management strategies, vendor management system and managed service provider increasing efficiency of large Chinese companies, attractive staffing market in comparison to the world and shift of focus on contingent workers. Major challenges that are faced in this industry are in recruitment and retention of high quality staff, finding skilled staffs, Legal Prohibitions on Temporary Work in China and Misinterpretation of Credentials, Profiles and Presentations.

In the report, key players of the industry namely Adecco Group, Randstad Group and Manpower Group have been profiled with comparable analysis based on parameters like sales and earnings, ratio analysis and stock performance has been done in the report.

The report gives an in-depth analysis of the Chinese recruitment market. It assesses the key opportunities in the market and also outlines the factors that are and will be driving the growth of the industry. Growth of the industry has been predicted taking into consideration the previous growth patterns, the growth drivers and the current and future trends.

Chinese Recruitment Market : Overview

The Chinese recruitment market witnessed a dip in growth rate during the recession phase of 2008 and 2009, but started to recover by year end of 2010.

China Recruitment Market by Value (US$Bn)

China Recruitment Market - Forecast (US$Bn)

- The growing number of industries and foreign investment in the resources of China played a major role in driving the growth of Chinese recruitment market.
- The market is continuously witnessing a growing demand of skilled and well qualified professional in the field of retail business, healthcare and FMCG segment.

Market Trends

VMS and MSP Adoption Penetrating Large Companies

-
-
-
-
-

Attractive Staffing Market

-
-
-
-
-

Contingence Workforce Management

-
-
-
-