Global Jewellery Market

Executive Summary

Jewellery refers to the ornaments such as necklaces, bracelets, rings, earrings, etc. that are made out of precious gems, stones, metals, etc. and are worn to adorn every part of human body. The term "jewellery" is restricted to durable ornaments, excluding flowers. Jewellery has its significance- it is worn as a mark of status-personal and social, signifier of affiliation-ethnic, religious or social, provides talismanic protection, etc.

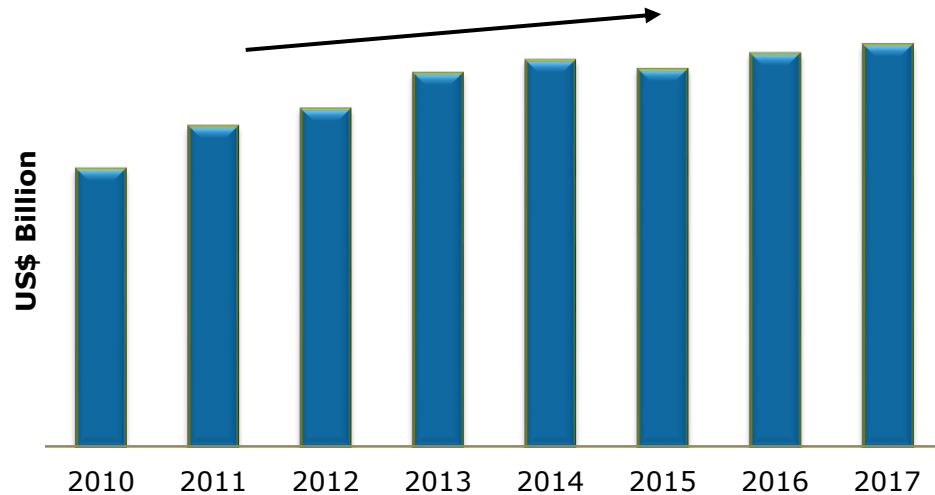

Jewellery has its history dated back to medieval times. Jewellery can be segmented on the basis of metals, branding, assortment, type, etc. Steps in the jewellery manufacturing include Creation of Wax Model, Placing the Wax on Casting Tree, Casting and Rhodium Plating.

The global jewellery market has increased at a significant CAGR during the years 2010-2017 and projections are made that the market would rise in the next four years i.e. 2018-2022 tremendously.

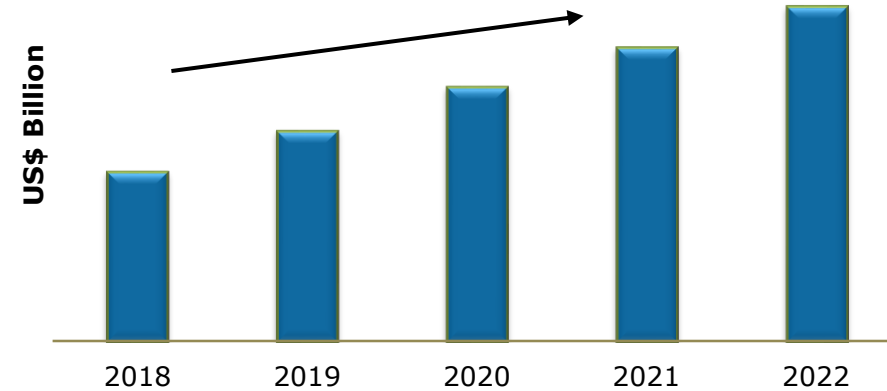

The jewellery market is expected to increase due to growth in female workforce and population, increase in GDP per-capita, increase middle class population of regions across the world, etc. Yet the market faces some challenges such as, youngsters putting off important milestones such as marriage and babies, cyber fraud risk, etc.
